

Testing Services

The need to deliver software solutions to your clients faster, cheaper and with improved quality is a real challenge in today's competitive market. Therefore software testing needs to keep pace with accelerated delivery schedules while lowering the Total Cost of Ownership. There is a narrow gap between expectations and the features provided to a business. Therefore improving performance of these business applications is paramount in achieving 'first-time right' applications

Lowering the cost of testing through use of offshore delivery centres, reusable assets, frameworks and standards is a key deliverable from ComMedia IT Solutions. At the same time our focus is on improved quality, performance and reliability through stringent QA and early defect detection.

For over a decade ComMedia IT Solutions has been a leading name in the offshore software development market. As part of our service offerings we provide an extensive range of test offerings specially developed for each client. We leverage all our experience, expertise and knowledge to help you get best quality and faster time to market.

ComMedia IT Solutions have an experienced team in Testing. Trained and certified in best of breed testing processes. Providing an independent testing service to clients globally across a variety of industries including public sector.
